Awarded Best of the New 2008 by the Boston Globe

Boston, Massachusetts – July 1, 2008 – D SCALE, Dennis Duffy's new Boston furniture store, is helping both retail customers and trade designers discover "the softer side of modernism." "Nowadays, we may think a sofa is only a sofa. But in the hands of the right designer, a sofa can become an object that speaks of wholeness, of the feminine, of infinity – and it can be made-to measure. This is the work of Dennis Duffy at his showroom south of Boston's Washington Street, DSCALE.

Jeff Stein, Head, School of Architecture, and Dean, Boston Architectural College
Architectural Critic, Banker & Tradesman
